A Piece of Cake

It was a piece of cake Monday when Mrs. Jean Heidman came to the Belle Glade Library to show a group of local women how to decorate cakes...the fancy way. Mrs. Heidman is well-known throughout the county for her cakes for special occasions and Mrs. Jan Suttle to show the group of Glades women how it's done.

City Hall Is Dead!

With little discussion and no fanfare plans for a $1.35 million Belle Glade City Hall complex were shelved and possibly killed Monday night during the city commission meeting.

City Manager William Mallory reminded the commissioners the extension for accepting or rejecting the sole bid for the project ran out that night and the commissioners voted to reject the bid.

Commissioner Bill Bailey moved that since Beau Builders, Inc.'s joint bid with Continental Consolidated Corp. was the only bid and it was so much higher than the $600,000 price tag estimated by Miami architect Homer F. Daniel, the bid should be rejected.

He also moved, and the commission approved, the commission meet with Daniel to discuss the plans and what should be the city's next step.

Should the city decide not to go ahead with the plans, it would still presumably owe Daniel $36,000 in architect's fees for the work he's done on the proposed complex so far.

The complex would have included a new city hall, designed as a square with a "pod" on each corner, which would have had a price tag of $1.066 million, landscaping, a patio, parking areas and modifications to the existing library.

Also included in future plans, but not bid on yet, were a new Chamber of Commerce building and a new fire station.

Father Ringland Dead at 60

The Rev. Edmund M. Ringland, D.D., died early Wednesday morning after a short illness at Glades General Hospital.

Father Ringland was Rector of Church of St. John the Apostle, Belle Glade, and Church of the Holy Nativity, Pakokee, since 1971.

The family has asked that in lieu of flowers, donations be made to the St. John Building Fund.

Dr. Ringland was formerly Dean of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, Springfield, Ill., and also Dean of the Cathedral in the Diocese of Lord de Lac, Wisconsin. He also served as Rector of St. John Church, Decatur, Ill., for 10 years.

Father Ringland was born in Beemer, Iowa, and graduated from the Marshalltown, Iowa, High School. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa, and his Bachelor of Sacred Theology from Seabury-Western Theological Seminary, Evanston, Ill.

In 1960 Cornell conferred a Doctor of Divinity degree in

With plans being made to teleview the inside of South Bay's controversial sewer lines being made, the city commission said Tuesday night no more permits to connect to the system would be issued for the time being.

The city authorized consulting engineer Robert H. Fowler to hire a company to "lance" the lines giving him the power to have at least 40 hours of picture taking done at the rate of $75 per hour.

Fowler said the job would take at least a week and possibly two weeks, running the cost up between $3,000 and $6,000 and he recommended no more connections be made until he made his report to the city.

Fowler also received permission to excavate certain portions of the line to take pictures of it to use as evidence in the city's upcoming suit against Robert Owens and Associates, the city's former consulting engineers during the construction of the system.

The commission also tentatively decided to award Goodbread of 425 Canal Street $2,000 for right of way and damages to his property, with a final decision to be made Monday evening.

Goodbread has for the past two years been trying to get the city to pay him for new line and a manhole installed on his property. There was apparently a mixup at the time of the installation and LaGrow Construction Co. apparently thought the city had an easement.

Goodbread asked at the time for a total of $600 for the easement and the damages. LaGrow at one point promised to pay him $1,000 but Goodbread and Commissioner Neal Mayo said nothing was ever done.

Goodbread told the commission Tuesday he would give two weeks before swearing out a warrant for trespassing but agreed to Commissioner O'Neal Walker's proposal to pay him $2,000.

The commissioners said,

however, they wanted to find out what City Attorney Allen had been employed by FHA as an engineer.

"The purpose of the fund," Stewart's widow wrote, "is to provide financial assistance in the form of scholarship awards to students enrolled in one of the courses offered by the College of Agriculture."

"We, his family," she wrote, "are grateful for the contributions that have been made and for those that may be made in the future. We all feel this is a fitting tribute to John for we all remember how he loved young people, how loyal he was to his University of Florida and his dedication to service through agriculture and life in general."

New Salesman

Jack White has recently returned to Belle Glade as a salesman for Watson Ford. White, a former Belle Glade resident, spent the past three years in Arizona but said he wanted to get back to South Florida and invited his friends by to see him.

FATHER RINGLAND
—He is in state Oct. 17 and 18

of Decatur, Ill.; four grandsons and three granddaughters.

Father Ringland will lie in state at the Church of St. John the Apostle on Thursday, Oct. 17, and Friday Oct. 18. A Requiem Mass will be celebrated by the Bishop of the Diocese, R.C. Rev. James L. Duncan on Saturday, Oct. 19 at 10 a.m. Interment will be in West Palm Beach.

Spaghetti For Cancer

A spaghetti dinner put on Saturday for a fund-raising drive for the American Cancer Society by the Belle Glade Lions Club brought in more than 200 pasta lovers.

Charles Ward, who headed up the effort for the local Lions, said he hadn't tallied up the profits yet but more than $500 had been raised by the Lions. The Lions put on the dinner to fulfill a pledge they made to the Belle Glade Junior Woman's Club earlier this year.

Dr. John Speaks

A crowd of about 300 people showed up Tuesday afternoon for a barbecue honoring U.S. Senate Candidate John Grady. The crowd ate barbecue, listened to patriotic and religious songs and cheered on their candidate.

Requiescat in Pace

Funeral services were held Monday evening for a proposed $1,358 million city hall complex. Belle Glade City Commissioner Bill Bailey dealt the coup de grace to the complex when he moved that the commission reject the sole bid for construction of what would have been a monument to absurdity.

It would have been nice to go ahead with plans for the city hall and see it built. It would have been quite and eye-catcher as far as city halls go; something really different.

But with the financial backaches the city is already suffering from an inadequate (at least by Department of Pollution Control standards) sewer system, the need for modifying the water system and the upcoming relocation of city utility lines to allow the four-laning of SR80, it's a luxury we can't afford.

The complex death knell was sounded as soon as the city found what the cost would be... half again the amount estimated by architect Homer F. Daniel. Too many people knew we couldn't afford that kind of price tag.

The only question was how long it would take a dying and that was answered the other night. This is one demise we don't mourn.

Requiescat in pace.

Whoops!

One Maroon Machine that Didn't Make It

A funny thing happened on the way to the football game and the state AAA championship.

Actually, it wasn't so funny, and if you get right down to it, it wasn't a funny thing, it was two or three disasters.

Take me for example. I don't know why anyone would want to but do it anyway. Certainly, Dave Campbell seemed darn good sense when he didn't.

Dave, according to Glades Central Athletic Director Graham Frost, was looking for a ride to the game between the Raiders and the St. Pete Catholic Crusaders (why do so many parochial schools pick the name Crusaders?) and I offered to give him a lift.

Dave was supposed to call me back but never did, so I just assumed he had found his own way getting to St. Pete so I set off with all good intentions of covering the game.

I never made it.

Got all the way to the Sunshine Skyway but I knew I was in trouble before I hit the rise on the main span. Before I made the top, there was serious doubt the old buggy would make it over the crest but it did and I coasted several miles until I only had about 14 more miles to go when the engine died completely and I'd coasted to a stop.

Now, I've been in cars before that I would say died on me but when mine died this time, it was dead; no power, no lights, no nothing...and there I was frantically trying to keep oncoming traffic from bulldozing the hulk down the bridge.

I wouldn't have believed it was so hard to get drivers to see a five-cell flashlight when you throw the beam right into their faces trying to get them to veer around you and your car.

And get somebody to stop? Forget it! I never did claim to bear any resemblance to Robert Redford but the way those people were acting, I had to look in a mirror later to see if I really looked like the Creature from the Black Lagoon.

Anyway, after waiting for about 17 hours and jumping out of the way of about 34 kamikaze pilots, here come the po-leees, the fuzz and he pushed me off the bridge and called a wrecker (come to think about it, he never got out of his cruiser.)

There was that: an interminable wait for the wrecker to show up. For any of you unfortunate enough to ever get caught where I did, disregard your road map. You might think that once you hit the Sunshine Skyway you're near St. Pete.

Then so, you've still got another 196 miles and 14 bridges to cross before you're off the causeway...and into the city of green benches; make it another 20 miles anyway.

Anyway, it was about 9:30 before we pulled into the service station, with about another 15 minutes or so left in the game and here, but it is not in evidence. Somehow the job needs to be done—and done in a hurry. Or else one of these day-to-somebody is going to be attacked by a pack of these dogs and do something that will be like shutting the door after the horses are all out.

Government in the Sunshine is a loosely worded phrase which all too often is abused, basically what it means is that any decision made by a public board and any discussion thereof, shall be made in front of the press and any other interested person if they so desire to be there.

If I had taken even only half the bet I was asked to take I would have still been in debt. Just in case you haven't heard the Redskins came from behind with only 16 seconds left on the clock and whipped the Dolphins this past Sunday, 20-17.

But I'm not going to rub it in like you guys did to me two years ago. Well, maybe just a little.

One thing you can be sure of though—I'm certainly going to wear my new Redskins sweatshirt my mommy sent me this past weekend with great pride. And I'm going to wear it often too.

Mayor of Belle Glade is really an honorary title. Is it worth breaking the law for it? Why not set up a formula for whom will serve in the post and let go at that. For instance, it could be set up so that the person with the most number of years on the commission who has not served as mayor automatically gets the job. If everybody on the council has served, then choose the one who was mayor the longest time before.

I don't really think it is worth flaunting the law to choose the man who is going to run the meetings and speak at one or two official functions during the year. The only question it brings up in mind is, if they will make decisions outside the sunshine on such an unimportant matter, what else will they try to decide in the shade.

some luck that wasn't bad. God knows, I got sick enough hearing what was happening in another game Saturday. That was the disaster overwhelming my Gators at Vanderbilt.

I won't go so far as to say I was convinced the Gators could go all the way this year but I did figure that if they could get past Auburn, they stood a chance.

But Vanderbilt? And not just to win by a fluke but beat the pants off the gators...

Oh well, wait till next year.

How about the coverage Dr. John got in the Palm Beach Post Sunday. I knew Marilyn Alva and Guy Ferrell were following him around for a few days and I figured they'd do the job up brown...but that was good coverage.

Ruthanna Vass, one of John's campaign workers, was in the office last week and we were talking about the coverage he's been getting and as we brought up then, there are advantages and disadvantages in having no primary opponent.

The advantage, of course, is you're not going to be campaigning against someone just to get to the Nov. 5 general election. The disadvantage is that since there's no competition, the news media doesn't spend very much time on you, with the result you come into the general election a possible unknown.

That hurt.

I figured, fergit it, there ain't no way of covering this one.

Guy by the name of Coy was the one who worked on my bomb and he was living proof you can't judge a book by the cover.

Coy (I never even knew just his last name) looked much like just about any mechanic you've seen. Tattered worked clothes, greasy-resistant boots, blackened fingernails, no amount of scrubbing would get out. He didn't believe his face had made the acquaintance of a razor for a couple of days.

Be that as it may, he was a pretty good mechanic and while he was working, we got into a discussion that soon included Drake and another mechanic whose name I don't recall.

Like most discussions these days, the talk finally got around to the economy, inflation, prices and the like. That's when he came into his own.

Turns out Coy knew more about the stock market than anyone standing there. He was reeling off prices and what different stocks had done over the years and he finally admitted owning "a few shares."

Now, I know just enough about the stock market to not mess with it. Not that I'm against investing but I do believe you ought to know a little about what you're tying your money up in and I've just never got around to studying the market.

I missed the game entirely and when I glanced at the front page of a newspaper the next day, I didn't even bother to buy it.

There were several scores on the front page and when I saw the head, "Crusaders-30 Glades-0", I didn't even bother buying one. That didn't help matters at all and it wasn't until Monday morning that Al Werneke told me the paper was wrong and the Raiders won after all.

Glad to hear someone had

Dateline History

Wanted by 'Robin Hood'

By Jerome Turk & Edw. Walsh

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14, 1774 - The noble language & lofty sentiments of the Declaration of Rights were approved Congress today. Strangely enough, the document was drafted by a wanted man.

The price on the land of this delegate to the first continental Congress wasn't put there by the British. It was levied half in jest by a six-foot, six-inch tall 36-year-old colonial Robin Hood who commands five merry companies of rugged Green Mountain Boys. When the reward was posted two years ago in Connecticut newspaper, here's what it said:

25 POUNDS REWARD

Whereas James Duane & John Kemp of New York have, by their Menaces and Threats, greatly disturbed the public Peace & Repose of the honest Peasants of Bennington, and the Settlements to the Northward, which Peasants are now, and ever have been, in the Peace of God & the King, and are patriotic and liege subjects of George the third - Any person that will apprehend these common disturbers, etc. James Duane & John Kemp, and bring them to Land Lord Foy's at Bennington, shall have 15 pounds Reward for James Duane and 10 pounds for John Kemp paid

Ethan Allen
Date at Poultney Remember Baker
Feb. 5th, 1772 Robert Coughran

New York delegate James Duane is a plump, congenial, cockeyed chap who has fastidious tastes in clothes & money enough to afford gold shooeshucks. But it isn't Duane's wealth that has big, bristling Ethan Allen and his partners in the "Union River" Land Company up in arms. It's Duane's leadership of the "Yorkers." That's the nickname given to New York land speculators by

New England settlers. The two groups have fought over the New Hampshire Grants like bulldogs over a bone, each claiming the vast tract of land for itself.

It's true that the New York delegate's eyes are a trifle cocked, but there's nothing cockeyed about his interest in land. The "Grants" - variously claimed by New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Quebec & a couple of Indian tribes - are a tempting parcel.

His enemies suggest that Duane's marriage to Maria "Poly" Livingston 15 years ago had more to do with land than with love. Her father, Robert Livingston, Jr., was already a kingpin among New York landlords. Young Duane, who had founded the settlement of Duanesburgh, soon became embroiled with New Englanders "squatting" on Livingston property. Duane dealt with them artfully, earning the admiration of other New York landlords. Today he is their spokesman, lobbyist, chief legal counsel & a prime candidate for a tar & feather party if ever he falls into Ethan Allen's huge hands in Bennington.

But the Declaration of Rights does no molly-coddling. It frankly states that Americans "are entitled to life, liberty and property," based on both parliamentary & natural law. Though the Declaration's 10 resolutions were hammered and haggled into a final version by committee, Duane was the guiding hand in the document's construction. The New York moderate differs with the patriot's choice of means to gain equality with the King's English subjects. But the Declaration of Rights makes it clear that Duane shares their sense of injustice.

We suspect that Ethan Allen himself would drink a toast to the Declaration of Rights. The day may come when he & Duane discover they've much to gain by putting rather than knocking their heads together.

Chortle, chortle, guffaw, guffaw, hee, hee...

The Year of the Gator may be no more.

I couldn't resist a chuckle when I read last Sunday's sports section of the Miami Herald and the Palm Beach Post Times and saw that the University of Florida lost to Vanderbilt last Saturday by a score of 24-10.

Now that I dislike the Gators (I'd like to see the "Year of the Gator" as much as anyone), but there happens to be two guys in this office who attended the University of Florida and come football season, that's all you hear from them, especially when they talk about "that ole girls' school up there in Tallahassee" riding a 17-game losing streak each week.

This past week "that ole girls' school" almost whipped one of the top college football teams in the country while the Gators were whiplashed by "Vandy". I'd like to have seen FSU and the University of Florida play each other that day.

Anyway, the Gators will have their pride at stake as they face the Seminoles this Saturday. I know one thing, if the Gators lose, I don't think I'm going to work next week.

Of course my glee didn't last too long, I was on the other end of the stick. Sunday as I watched the Miami Dolphins lose to the Washington Redskins 20-17, after a hard-fought game. Gotta admit, even though Miami lost, it was one of the most exciting games I've watched.

What was so bad about the outcome of it though? I thought the Redskins were Peacock Leader's team. How was ready to rub it in Monday morning about his college team losing, but I changed my mind fast after that.

Monday morning he told me that he almost decided to wear his Redskins sweatshirt his mother had sent him. But that's okay, Tuesday I would have worn an old FSU football jersey I had stuck in the corner of the closet. (Don't get any ideas, I also have a University of Florida jersey).

Coming back to high school football for a bit, it is interesting to note that the Glades Central Raiders have allowed only six points all season and have not been scored against for 14 consecutive quarters.

Our neighboring school, Pahokee, has allowed only seven points. Tells you something about the Glades teams doesn't it? As of the writing, the Blue Devils are rated No. 2 in the state AA ratings and the Raiders are No. 2 in the AAA ratings.

Could there be two state championships for the Glades area teams this year?

Glades Day School is looking for its first win this Friday as they play host to St. Edwards in the Gators' first home game in three weeks. Hope they get what they want.

Speaking of Glades Day, I've been asked questions lately as to why Glades Day and Belle Glade Christian Day School's football games aren't getting write-ups in the paper.

As you can see we got a story on the Gators this week and if all goes well, we'll have more pics and information on them in next week's paper.

Our main problem though, in not having any stories on the schools is not being able to get away and cover the games they have. Unfortunately, Belle Glade Christian doesn't even have a game in Lake Harbor this year (Lake Harbor served as their "home field" last year).

Our paper has a small staff so we are limited in what all events we can cover. Poor Dean has to do 99 percent of the coverage and Glenda and I try to take over where he can't possibly make it. Although we can't make it either sometimes because of some other responsibility.

Getting back to the original topic, we would be more than glad to put anything in the paper concerning the football team. If anyone would like to bring any information or stories for us to put in. The only reason we have such write-ups on the Raiders is because Coach Werneke from Glades Central brings a story every week. Without him we would be sunk as to stories on the Raider games.

So as I said, if anyone would like to gather any facts about the schools' teams and bring them on down to the Herald, we would be happy to print them.

"Nuff said.

Raiders Go for Three

The Glades Central Raiders rolled to their third straight shutout last Friday night with a hard earned 13-0 victory over the third ranked St. Petersburg Barron.

The Raiders wasted little time in putting points on the board as Anthony Parrish intercepted a Barron pass on the St. Pete 31-yard line and raced down to the Barron nine yard line before a fumble broke up the drive.

Three plays later Howard Moses bucked over left guard for three yards and the touchdown. David Kintaw converted and the Raiders took a 7-0 lead.

No effective was the Super Barron defense in the first half as the St. Petersburg Catholic unit had only one touchdown. The hard charging line composed of Cornelius Brown, David Jones, Calvin Willis, Ernest Jackson and Hudall Cole kept the pressure on the Barrons all night long.

The tough Raiders in the secondary only allowed the St. Pete Catholics one completion in eight attempts. David Kintaw picked off two passes and Anthony Parrish picked off the third one.

Meanwhile Rigo Ruiz was hitting on five out of ten passes good for 36 yards and no interceptions. Howard Moses was the leading ball carrier rushing for 45 yards in 13 carries.

Rigo Ruiz rushed for 81 yards in ten carries and Alvin Brown enjoyed a fourth quarter touchdown and rushed for 30 yards in 11 carries. Anthony Burger rushed for 34 yards in nine carries.

The Raiders showed balanced running attack. They made their best drive of the year, moving the football from their own seven yard line to the St. Pete Catholic three yard line.

Steel-belted Silent Guard. Two layers of steel cord and two layers of polyester cord when you run over a pothole or rock. Steel resists cuts better than most other belting materials. Belts won't stretch when they are stressed. Belts are stable in temperature, better than a spinning one. Polyester won't flat spot like nylon can. Wide "ZB Series" design is like most new car tires - low and wide. See page 10 for complete page.

Rounding End and Away We Go!

Bill Thompson of Glades Day School eludes tacklers on an end around Friday night. Unfortunately it was one of the few things which went right for the Gators as they fell to a tough Moore Haven team, 27-0. While the Gators have yet to win a game this year in four attempts, their first three defeats were by a total of only eight points.

At one time, caterpillars were thought to cure snake bites.

In 310 B.C., someone advanced a theory that gems would cure leprosy if left in the wound!

In Letter to Culpepper

Wedgworth Calls for No Southwest Rezoning

EDITOR'S NOTE: During the recent controversy over the agricultural land in the southwest part of Palm Beach County and part of the natural state and also that you plan to call a meeting of all interested parties to resolve the matter.

You will recall that I wrote to you on this matter on May 1974, enclosing our statement to the Cabinet on this subject. We again appeared before the Cabinet this week in behalf of Mr. Waldo Carmichael and other land owners and were successful in helping Mr. Carmichael to secure a permit in two weeks. If a satisfactory solution is not achieved to relieve this problem in that time. However, due to the biased action of Mr. Rusty Ingles, the Cabinet setting as the Board of Natural Resources continued to ask that the Flood Control District not issue any more permits in this area for a period of 90 days to allow further time for Executive Director, Harmon Shields to convene his group for the purpose of formulating recommendations as to the state

Since Culpepper's remarks received such wide publicity in other media, we thought it would be only fair to give the League's side of the story.

Mr. Robert F. Culpepper, Chairman, Palm Beach County Commission, Post Office Box 1969, West Palm Beach, Florida

Dear Commissioner:

We have noted by last night's television news and this morning's papers that following a trip to the Southwest portion of the Everglades Agriculture area, you were credited with saying that the tour impressed the group with the need to preserve the land in its natural state and also that you plan to call a meeting of all interested parties to resolve the matter.

You will recall that I wrote to you on this matter on May 1974, enclosing our statement to the Cabinet on this subject. We again appeared before the Cabinet this week in behalf of Mr. Waldo Carmichael and other land owners and were successful in helping Mr. Carmichael to secure a permit in two weeks. If a satisfactory solution is not achieved to relieve this problem in that time. However, due to the biased action of Mr. Rusty Ingles, the Cabinet setting as the Board of Natural Resources continued to ask that the Flood Control District not issue any more permits in this area for a period of 90 days to allow further time for Executive Director, Harmon Shields to convene his group for the purpose of formulating recommendations as to the state

Since Culpepper's remarks received such wide publicity in other media, we thought it would be only fair to give the League's side of the story.

Mr. Robert F. Culpepper, Chairman, Palm Beach County Commission, Post Office Box 1969, West Palm Beach, Florida

Dear Commissioner:

We have noted by last night's television news and this morning's papers that following a trip to the Southwest portion of the Everglades Agriculture policy regarding this area. We would be very happy to appear before your group in opposition to the change of the agriculture zoning of the Everglades Agriculture Area in Southwestern Palm Beach County. However, we respectfully would like to call the following statement of facts to your consideration for your consideration:

1. The Governor and Board of Natural Resources requested Harmon Shields to convene his State Policy Recommendation group to address itself to the future use of this subject area and report back before 90 days from Oct. 2, 1974.

2. The area in question is owned, both by the State and private owners.

3. Several of the private owners who have paid taxes to Palm Beach County for many years now wish to place their land into the production of food.

4. Reversion of this land to private ownership for preservation and conservation purposes will take large acreages off of the tax rolls of Palm Beach County.

5. This area has been designated for agriculture use by both the Federal Congress and the State Legislature when the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District was created.

6. The counties of Palm Beach and Hendry have zoned the area for agriculture for many years.

7. The area now abounds with deer which are not indigenous to the area, but have migrated out of other areas including Conservation Area No. 3, during periods of high water.

8. These same deer will continue to have refuge because agriculture development is conducted to good game management in the area, as evidenced by the deer feeding and having refuge on the fertilized pastures of the Big B Ranch, which is in a similarly situated area in Palm Beach County.

9. The creation of the Flood Control District, in addition to creating the Everglades Agriculture Area, also created a greater land mass (1,105 square miles) of conservation areas that are now used for wildlife management and water fowl preservation.

10. Food is important to the state and nation. Today there is a shortage of certain essential and vital foods, as evidenced by five pounds of refined sugar selling in local stores for $2.13. The best way to bring down this high price is by producing more.

11. The muck soils of Florida in the Everglades Agriculture Area are among the most productive in the world for that purpose.

12. Plans of many of the land owners are to initially place their holdings in the area into pasture, thus relieving other muck soils for sugar production and provide acreage for sugar production in the future when processing facilities for sugar cane are built.

13. The area in question needs to be saved from wild fires and fires purposely set by deer hunters by placing it under water management and close care and supervision. The best way to do is by placing it into agriculture production, as evidenced by the fact that the great Everglades muck fires of the past in Palm Beach County do not occur anymore where water management has taken place with agriculture development. The uncontrolled muck fires in the Everglades now occur South of Palm Beach County, except in the undeveloped area under question.

14. The writer of this letter does not have any personal financial interest in the lands in question, but has volunteered his time to protect the integrity of the Everglades Agriculture Area for food production.

15. The Chairman of the Palm Beach County Commission is a member of the Policy Recommendation Committee under the Chair of Harmon Shields. Hopefully, it will be convened promptly.

After citing the above facts, we ask that the question of changing of zoning in this area not be considered and that any action affecting this area be postponed until the State Cabinet has had the opportunity to consider the overall matter and establish State Policy.

With kind regards, I remain, Sincerely
George H. Wedgworth
President

Boy Scouts Set Leaders Meeting

The Gulf Stream Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold a meeting for all leaders of Scout troops from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 19, at St. John's Episcopal Church in Belle Glade.

This training, known as Phase II of the Seven Leader Development Program, is the "outdoor experience" part of the course for scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters and other leaders in scouting.

Phase I, the "Orientation" program of seven, will be conducted Friday night from 7 to 9 p.m. at the church, according to Earl Hartman, district scout executive. This is for all leaders who have not had or finished this part of the program.

The outdoor program will include such skill training as required to make leaders competent in overnight camping, cooking and hiking; prepare the leader for his role as a coach-counselor with boy leaders, and introduce the "manager of learning" techniques of Scouting. Hartman said.

A third course, known as Phase III or the "overnight

Pahokes.

Blood Pressure Checks Are Free

Free blood pressure checks will be made Monday at the Florida State Employment Office on SRT 15 in Belle Glade by the Palm Beach County Health Department.

The tests will be given from 9:30 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Priscilla Hostick of the health department said the tests are painless and they are offered as a service of the department.

"If you are over 18," she said, "there is a one-in-seven chance of having high blood pressure.

These tests are a service of the health department, in cooperation of the American Heart Association and the Palm Beach Medical Society.

New Man at Grants

William (Bill) Aicher has taken over as the new manager for W. T. Grants on Ave. A in Belle Glade. Aicher, an Army veteran, has been with Grants for the past five years. He comes to the Belle Glade store from Hollywood where he was an assistant manager. Aicher replaces Carl Scott who had been the Grant's manager for the past 18 months. Scott has moved to Homestead to manage Grant's store in that south Florida city.

Former Belle Glade Resident Is Missing

Judi (Maki) Martin, 29, has been missing since Wednesday, Sept. 25, when she walked from a Doctors Office in Cortland, New York. She is 5 feet two inches tall, and weighs 110 pounds. She has brown hair and brown eyes. She was wearing a light blue blouse, pants and jacket.

Mrs. Martin has been under psychiatric care and it is urgent that she be located. She had previously been employed in the Palm Beach area before moving to Cortland, N.Y.

A reward has been offered for information leading to her safe return. Persons with information may call 607-730-9999.

FORMER TEACHER
...missing a month

Judith Maki Martin was a 1st grade teacher at Belle Glade Elementary from 8-68 to 69.

'Skipper' Chuck Delights Youths

The Glades Central Gym was a hub of happy sounds and voices Saturday October 12, as the children awaited the arrival of Skipper Chuck, the Belle Glade Janie. Woman's Club would like to extend its warmest appreciation to all the children, mothers and fathers for their patience in what turned out to be a rather long wait for the arrival of the Skipper Chuck Gang. The troop had ear trouble and did not arrive until 2:15.

The program, when underway, was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Skipper Chuck sang several songs accompanied by Doris Bernhardt on the accordion.

The antics of Scrubby, Skipper's sidekick, had everyone laughing, especially when Doris gave him a lesson in how to spell his name. Several children from the audience participated in a balloon popping game and stuffing snakes in a can, for which they were prizes. The children who tried to stump Scrubby with a riddle unsuccessfully received a pie in the face. A member of the Junie Woman's Club then presented Scrubby with an award—a pie in the face, of course.

Skipper Chuck closed with his theme song "Peace, Love and Happiness." The Club sincerely hopes this delightful program made up for any inconvenience encountered prior to the program.

GOP Will Host The Candidates

The Glades Republican Club will sponsor a Meet the Candidates Night, featuring U.S. Senate candidate Jack Eckerd Friday, Oct. 18 at the Belle Glade Country Club.

"We have invited all Republican state and county candidates to attend and speak briefly to the group," Club President Robert Pease said. He said Eckerd will be the featured speaker.

A cash bar will open at 7 p.m. and a buffet dinner will be served at 7:45 p.m. Tickets are $7 per person and are available at Republican headquarters or at the door.

"Attendance is limited to 300 people," Pease said. "Make reservations prior to Oct. 15 by calling Republican Headquarters at 904-9690 or Jan Pease at 904-9697.

Pease also issued an appeal to all Republicans in the Glades to support party candidates by studying their qualifications, talking to friends and relatives, using bumper stickers, "writing to your state and county representatives and attending campaign functions and assisting in getting out the vote."

He said the Republican Headquarters at 68 Southeast Ave. E is the focal point for all area activities and urged party members to "drop in and visit with Bea Wood, our Headquarters Manager, or call her at 904-9696 and volunteer your services."

He said office hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Lake Okeechobee Audubon Society will meet in Belle Glade at the Agricultural Research and Education Center on Thursday, Oct. 24 at 8 p.m.

Mr. Thomas P. McElroy Jr., author of the book "The Habitat Guide to Birding," will be the speaker. If you enjoy birds this should be most informative and helpful. The more you understand birds the more of them you see everyday. All are welcome.

Vandegrift Honored

Roy Vandegrift, Jr., of Pahokee received the Distinguished Service Award of Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association at the convention in Hollywood.

The award, the highest honor of the prestigious growers group, has been made annually to "that individual or organization, which for a period of years, has rendered the greatest service to Florida's agricultural industry."

The Association's president, L.A. Masters of Hastings, cited a long list of service and accomplishments by the recipient which included chairmanship and membership of several prominent committees, advisory organizations with the University of Florida and the Department of Agriculture and numerous other groups involved in Florida agriculture.

Practical Learning

Glades Central High School Agricultural Instructor Sam Lovell (far right) demonstrates to his class how to go about butchering a cow as part of the class curriculum in learning about the care of animals. Under Lovell's supervision, the students did much of the work towards getting the beef ready for the freezer.

Republicans Hold Candidate Night

The Glades Republican Club will sponsor a Meet the Candidates Night, featuring U.S. Senate candidate Jack Eckerd as the main speaker, at 7 p.m. Friday at the Belle Glade Country Club.

"We have invited all

Republican state and county candidates to attend and speak briefly to the group," Club President Robert Pease said.

This will be Eckerd's first visit to the Glades and Pease urged local Republicans to turn out and hear what he has to say.

A cash bar will open at 7 p.m. and a buffet dinner will be served at 7:45 p.m. Tickets are $7 per person and are available at Republican Headquarters or at the door. Reservations may be made by calling 996-9696.

Optimismo y Confianza

Un famoso violinista cometió un suicidio, por la simple razón que, no teniendo medios de vivir, tuvo que emprender su vida o morir. Yo diría que, para individuos como este el catálogo más grande sería, si Dios la resucitara y lo mandara de vuelta a la vida y les haría saber como hubiese desenvuelto su vida y su futuro, si no hubieran tomado esa dramática determinación.

Dicho artista, si hubiera esperado un par de horas más, hubiera encontrado la felicidad. Un empresario de un gran trabajo llamó a su puerta para ofrecerle un contrato en su trabajo pagandole cinco mil dólares. Hoy en día es casi una enfermedad contagiosa, la desanimación y por ende la desesperación.

Facilmente dirás para mí lo mismo de vivir o morir. La humanidad en general no sabe que hacer en la vida, miles y miles andan como cadáveres ambulantes quienes la guerra ha matado sin que la granada o la bala haya destrozado.

Hay personas cuyas conversaciones consisten en quejas, hasta el suspirio es una queja, se les metió en la cabeza que han nacido bajo un signo de desdicha o infelicidad y, se hacen la idea que todo el mundo está en contra de ellos. Para tales, todo lo que existe van con prisas ocurras como en un espero tórdido, los pequeños rasgos para ellos es un martirio en doloroso inigualable es un dolor de corazón incurable, las pequeñas desavenencias o discrepancias en la familia lo consideran una tragedia de la familia, y las pequeñas discrepancias o engaños para ellos es el derribo de la familia o de la sociedad.

Con razón dice Swift de los pessimistas que, si todo se cumpliese a pedir de boca a sus entonces se quejarían; diciendo: porque 'lo llegó a los antros o despues, o mas tarde'. Seyan desechados dice una figura de Moller: que 'yo no iría fuera soberbio, seguramente los hombres nacieran sin cabezas'.

La desdicha de la pobreza, y de la miseria es precisamente el hecho que acostumbra la gente al infelicidad y se reconcilan con ese pensamiento. Y, el que entra en la vida con ese pensamiento; yo no voy a dar plác con bala, ese tal esté fracasado de enternecer.

El que se hace la idea que ha nacido bajo un signo de infelicidad, para él aunque la suerte se lo presenta las cosas en una taza de oro, no la sabrá aprovechar o disfrutar. Los hombres que no ven mas que la parte triste de la vida y no encuentran ninguna alegría o felicidad estos tales viven a espaldas a la luna, se privan de muchos momentos felices y ellos mismos levantan un muro, no dejando pasar la alegría.

Hay una energía inexplicada en el alma de cada hombre aparentemente fracasado, o se creen fracasados, y el han malogrado es porque han perdido el valor y la confianza de si mismos. Van Wild Oscar cuenta que una figura principal de su drama, se queja, porque alguien lo sigue en la noche, pidié al sereno que vigile, quien es y que lo agarre: responde que el tipo que lo seguía era su propia sombra.

La vida es un espejo, le refleja la cara con que se mira, si nosreemos sonríe, si miramos con una cara de viernes santo refleja la misma cara. No hay nada en la vida que no tenga su sombra, o su lado brillante, claro está, todo depende de nosotros como lo miramos. No las cosas, o mejor dicho la vida es oscura, sino nuestros ojos lo ven oscuro, no el mundo es triste sino nosotros queremos verlo triste.

Sucedio que un Señor viajaba de Viena a Budapest con su hijo, que lloraba y sollozaba desde que tomaron el tren. Parecía que no termina nunca, sigue y sigue. Los demás viajeros se sentían molestos.

Por aquí por allá empeñaron haciendo muecas, y señales de protesta. Una dama de copeta, no pudo aguantar su indignación y su disgusto, prostróse en palabras hirientes y hace esta pregunta al padre. Por favor haga callar este niño, avá poder dormir y descansar un poco.

Que dirá su madre cuando deje a casa con esos ojos llenos de lagrimas. Al oír esta palabra madre el pobre hombre también se puso a llorar de dolor, y dice oh con que gusto lo llevaría a casa de su madre le contestó, si él no se eñiviera viajando con nosotros amortajado en el ultimo carro. Al instante todo el escenario ha cambiado. La simple palabra madre era suficiente para despertar en todos la simpatía al dolor, y la compasión, por estos dos seres dolientes.

Todo el mundo trato sacar del fondo de su corazón las palabras mal consolado ras y confortante, y así mitigar el lamento del padre y del niño. Todos caminaron silenciosamente llegando a nuestras felicitaciones y nuestros mas sinceros deseos de que ella siga como hasta ahora siendo ejemplo de aplicación en su escuela y la hija buena y ella en realidad esas Muchísimos mas te deseamos simpatía, y cariño.

Si miráramos a los hombres con simpatía, sus quejas nos pusieran dolores los consideráramos nuestras, les haríamos much más fácil la vida. Gosta decir; no habla tanta pena y ocurrencia en el mundo si no usáramos 'toda la fuerza de nuestras fantasías, recordarles las furias y vendavales de nuestro pasado'. Se oye decir frecuentemente que, el mal es de mayor duración que el bien.

Es así porque no sabemos disfrutar con animo sorgiendo los momentos de alegría, que la vida nos proporciona diariamente. Esos momentos felices deberían servirnos a sobrellevar los momentos tristes de la vida.

La causa principal de la desdicha es que casi nadie está conforme con su propia suerte. Las alegrías que por suerte nos vienen a cuenta, gotas, no las tomamos en cuenta, y nos olvidamos que existen y se desaparecen como las perlas de una cadena rota. Muchos hombres no saben aprovechar las buenas oportunidades, ni siquiera extienden la mano cuando se les ofrecen.

Nos pasa como al sobre con los refrescos, pides toda clase de bebidas, dulces apetitosas y bien sabemos que la sed se puede mitigar, solo y únicamente con un vaso de agua cristalina.

El secreto de la vida consiste en no eximir mucho de la vida, porque a nadie se ha dado lo que pensaba y monaba en su juventud. Por cierto hay momentos de felicidad en la vida, pero no olvidemos que felicidad y alegría completa no existe, como tampoco hay sol sin sombra, ni felicidad sin tristeza. Tolstoiy escribe en su biografía: cuando joven estaba ansioso de ver todo, disfrutar de todo, sentir todo, en una palabra quería poseer el mundo entero. El hombre lucha en ese mar agitado de la vida, cuando esa tempestad de mi interior cogió su nivel, me di cuenta que la vida tranquila en mi pueblecito, la posibilidad de hacer el bien quien lo necesita, que para cierto es muy fácil hacerlo el trabajo útil, los áboles con sus flores, los libros la música, el amor a un ser amado a mí, ha aquí el concepto de la felicidad.

Beauty Pageant Underway

The El Dorado Civic Club is in the process of presenting its third beauty-talent pageant according to Mrs. Vivian Byrd of the club.

Mrs. Byrd said the club is now seeking young women ranging in age from 17 through 21 who are single and never been married for the contest.

She said the date and place of the contest will be announced later but applications are now being accepted for the competition.

Mrs. Byrd said each girl will be sponsored by a club, organization, business or her parents, along with a $35 entry fee. She said the fees will be awarded to the winners in certain categories and a scholarship will be awarded to the winner. Other prizes will be given to the girls.

Applications may be obtained by contacting Nate's Record Shop on S.W. Avenue E or calling Mrs. Byrd at 996-3717 or Mrs. Alberta Culler at 996-8439. Mrs. Byrd is director of the pageant and Mrs. Culler is the co-director.

Mrs. Byrd said long range planning would be helpful to the contestants and she and Mrs. Culler are arranging sessions in grooming, charm, speech, manners, makeup and intellectual ability.

"Mrs. Louise Gillyard," she said, "a former beauty queen and a resident of Fort Lauderdale, will be working with the contestants.

"Applications are limited," Mrs. Byrd said, "and should be obtained as soon as possible. We want entries from South Bay, Bean City, Lake Harbor and Pahokee also."

Women Officers Installed

Officers of the women of the church were installed in the Morning Worship at Everglades Presbyterian Church, in an Installation Service conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Abe Castor.

In his installation address, Rev. Castor praised the Women of the Church for the historical role they have played in the promotion of the church's program.

Using the scripture, "All these with one accord devoted themselves to prayer, together with the women and Mary the mother of Jesus" (Acts 1:14), Rev. Castor acknowledged that women have been important to the church's life since the days of the apostles.

Rev. Castor acknowledged that that he personally would not be in the ministry, had it not been for the support and encouragement of the Women of the Church when he was called to the ministry.

Reminding the ladies that most of them are old enough to be his mother, Rev. Castor stated that he considered each of them to be his elders, and acknowledged that from time to time he has sought advice and counsel from many of them.

Rev. Castor further stated that the work of the Women of the Church cannot be separated from the total work of the church, and that's officers of the Women of the Church organization, they are also church officers.

BOY---then MAN

That's my son, Jerry, literally two feet off the ground last Saturday in the top half of the ninth. His team was ahead by one run and the bases loaded when he caught the fly that ended the game.

Whatever else good happens to Jerry, I know he'll never forget that sweet thrill of victory.

Years from now, when faced with a tough situation, that memory could be the inspiration for another triumph. The things that happen to a boy do shape the man.

That's why I always take Jerry to our church. I want the smell of candles on the altar, the blend of voice and heart in hymn and litany, to be a part of his life. I want for him the joy that comes from understanding God.

My father did the same for me.

How about you?
